Battling Fierce Flames In Grain Elevator Fire at Framingham

DOZEN FIREMEN

NARROWLY ESCAPE AS TENEMENTS ARE THREATENED
Thousands of spectators gathered, attracted by flames shooting high in air as the grain elevator of J. Cushing & Co., with its $10,000 worth of contents, was burned. Two other buildings were damaged from flying sparks blown across the tracks. Framingham and Natick firemen were hampered by the low water pressure. Occupants of a two-family house, which was ignited, escaped in safety.

BATTLE $75,000 BLAZE IN FRAMINGHAM PLANT

Flames that reached nearly 100 feet in the air destroyed the J. Cushing & Co. grain elevator, the time storehouse of Walter Swann and a grain-filled freight car in Framingham today.

Four alarms were sounded for the fire, which caused a loss of $75,000. The blaze originated for an hour to spread through the elevator, and then burst into a fire. Thousands of spectators, attracted by the flames shooting from the top of the 100-foot grain elevator, watched the battle of Framingham and Natick firemen to bring the fire under control.

Husband in Scribner Case Bares Woes

The screening walls of his household were rolled away today in Middlesex Probate Court by William A. Scribner of Everett as he related on the witness stand the affairs he alleges his wife had with George Carl Murray, also well known in Everett.

Scribner, who, in his divorce suit, charges his wife with unfaithfulness and names Murray as the "other man," told also of his pleading with his wife at home that she "do the right thing" and give up Murray. One of these pleadings, he said, progressed into a quarrel and was climaxed by an attempted attack on him by his wife with a butcher knife.

TRUMBULL GIRL ADMITS LOVE BUT PRESIDENT OPPOSES WEDDING NOW

Chicago, June 24 (I.N.S.)—John Coolidge, and Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Governor of Connecticut, "are very much in love, anxious to be married and the only obstacle to their wedding is President Coolidge's objection to his son taking on the obligations of matrimony before he has finished his college work," the Chicago Evening American declared today.

One of the girls "closely identified" with the recent wedding here of Annamie Houston, Chicago, and Alfred Sandgren, 22 of Tacoma, Wash., at which Miss Trumbull was a bridesmaid, revealed the plans, it was said.

YALE BEATS HARVARD IN TWO BOAT RACES

Both of Yale's crews smashed the former records for these events by wide margins, buoyed by ideal water conditions, but so swift was the pace that Harvard was well in the lead in the first race. Disputing the greatest speed of any of the four crews, Yale's freshman team swept over the finish line in 18 minutes 18 seconds to smash by over 20 seconds the old record of 38:15 set up by Harvard in 1905. This was the fastest time ever recorded by a crew of any class in the Harvard-Yale regatta, which dates its beginning back 72 years to 1855. The Yale junior varsity was timed in 20 minutes 10 seconds.

Financing World Health A Pleasant Worry Mussolini Puzzled A Bear Dance

LAST YEAR the Rockefeller Foundation spent $9,741,474 on world-wide health. The work was done impartially, in many countries. The Rockefeller Hospital at Peking is arranged so that if China decides to drive out all foreigner Chinese doctors can take full charge.

IN BRAZIL, the Rockefellers, cooperating with the government, fought yellow fever and hookworm and they helped British health underlings "all the way from London and Edinburgh to Hong Kong and Sydney." In France the Rockefellers established a medical school at Strasbourg, a university and laboratory in Paris, nurses' training centres in London and Paris, and so on through the world.

AND WHILE the Rockefellers intend to give away their millions in intelligent philanthropy, the nine million dollars spent on health, the bread and butter of the world.

Girl Reporter

Journeys Skyward

To Get Interview

'SPARROW' PRAISES PLUCK

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE.

I am supposed to be the weaker of the weaker journalists—a "sob sister." If you will, I was, I say weak, but now, well—

Bring on those flagpoles fifty feet above a roof, 225 feet above the ground.

"Sparrow" I had company in the person of little me at the top of the pole before the police made him come down. We interviewed from his lofty perch over the Metropolitan Theatre Building side by side in our swiveling seats. All we needed was tea and the slices of cake. I had my professional "certain pencil and paper, so that was that."

"Hello," said he, "Hello, young man," said I, really true, too, way up there above the city.

"ONE OF THE MANY"

I had been hoisted up by brawny men, willing aspers, while I sat idly on the "safety" seat.

As they pulled me up, gradually, of course, and I looked out into space by way of the Hotel Statler, over Tremont street and the Common, and the tops of the high buildings, I thought of those who have been every second and decided I was one of them. It didn't take me long to come to that conclusion.

This wasn't a compulsory assignment, but just a nice little extra, really expressed when I won and I did it. News must be obtained while it is new.

And what "Sparrow" had to say to the rest of his observations on either things had to come from him directly.

But he didn't say much when I greeted him in variations in repeated, "Gee, you're a game girl!" He added to make a lucky find for some man, but this is the wrong column for that propaganda.

I was a pretty gothic dress with a white apron over it. That was a fine costume for that. But it is the unusual that counts always. I took my stone off. I don't know why other than that it was badly explained that my shoes might come in contact with the flagpole and upset my equilibrium.

After I gave the handshaking friends my home phone number, in case of accident and told them I'd be back in five minutes, I departed this earth and up I went.

NEVER A THIRILL.

I may be doubted as girls usually are, but I experienced no thrill in my little hunt heavenwards to interview "Sparrow." It was a case of going up and coming down and spending twelve minutes in the sleepwalker's company for my story. I may be hard to please, of course, I wasn't afraid, if that's running through your head, although I must confess that I was a little shaken on my trip coming down.

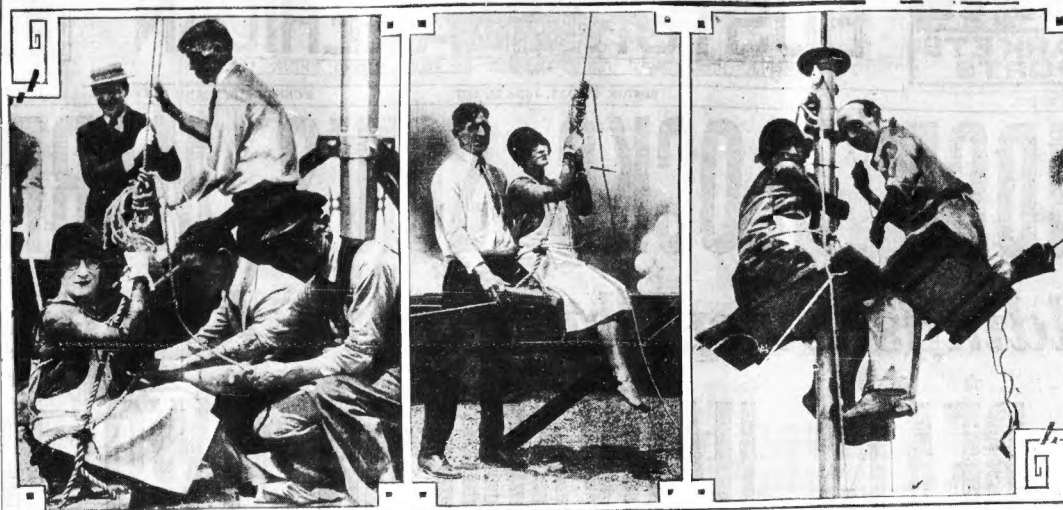

A photographer thought he didn't "shoot" me while I was perched with "Sparrow" on the very tip of the flagpole. I noticed I was hoisted up again as if I had sailed half way down at 100. I was floating about for a minute until he was made to take "a" for an answer.

It was cool, decidedly refreshing in contrast with sweltering Boston. The breeze blew my skirt about me and was deliciously cool. As I ascended the automobile, racing up and down Tremont street seemed like toy machines. The view was clear even the white-gloved hand of the traffic officer in a non-signal was visible.

Other than that there was nothing to it.

That coming down, here was the high.

It came down like a creeping caterpillar, so slowly, I thought I was never going to hit the ground. Each stroke of the rope sent a shiver up my spine.

GETTING READY TO GO UP

START OF THE TRIP

"Not a thrill in it," says Miss Ruth "Confident" Mugglebee, but she was particular to clutch the rope tightly just the same.

THE MID-AIR CONFERENCE

"Sparrow" is ordinarily a man of few words but he loosened up a bit when visited by the Boston Evening American reporter at his perch, 225 feet above the ground.

4-ALARM FIRE IN FRAMINGHAM

under control with water that had little pressure back of it.

A down fireman narrowly escaped injury when the elevator carried under the burning flames and came crashing to earth, landing on the fragments for many feet.

It is believed by the fire officials the fire started from a firecracker thrown by a boy into the Swan time storehouse, across the tracks from the grain elevator.

The time house, a wooden building, was quickly burned to the ground. The flames then jumped the tracks and set fire to the box car standing on a siding at the grain elevator.

From the box car the flames jumped to the elevator, a two-story half-story wooden building, with the elevator column, and when firemen arrived the flames were running rapidly up to the top of the building.

Firemen damaged slightly the plant of Armour & Co. and the office of the Metropolitan District Commission, but firemen set down all nearby buildings before much additional loss was outside.

In the old Howe mansion, No. 10 to 12, the fire, however, the flames took a fair grip, driving out occupants of the reconstructed two-story house, Mrs. Frank Cole and the family of Anthony Ellis.

These occupants, including Jimmy Ellis, who was asleep and had been awakened by Cyril Moore, junior of the Old Fellows Building, when the fire spread, moved out considerable of the furniture, fearing that the house would be destroyed.

Fire Chief Conner of Framingham left the total damage at $75,000.

Bert Acosta to Write Flight Story for Boston Evening American

WHEN the America hops off for Paris, Bert Acosta will be at the controls.

He is the man selected by Commander Byrd and his associates to be pilot of the great three-motored plane. On him will rest a large measure of the strain and responsibility of the trip, for it is Acosta who, at least for the greater part of the trip, will actually pilot the huge ship.

Acosta is remembered as the flier who, with Clarence Chamberlin, piloted the Bellanca plane over New York for more than 51 hours without a stop, thus breaking all non-stop endurance records. Acosta is one of the most famous pilots in America and one of the most experienced.

BERT ACOSTA, Pilot.

When the flight is completed, Acosta's own story will be written especially for the Boston Evening American and other Hearst newspapers in a series of daily articles.

In Boston these Acosta stories will appear only in the Evening American.

Acosta will tell of his experiences, exactly what occurred in the plane, weather conditions, problems met in flying and lessons to be learned from the flight.

Remember, these stories by Acosta will appear only in the Evening American.

FIST FIGHT ENDS IN HAND-SHAKING

A little argument, which started with fists in the street, was smoothly settled when the two participants appeared in municipal court today before Judge Murray. "Shake hands and call it quits," said Judge Murray.

Howard I. Pitt, a tumbler, and Joseph Malocco grinned at each other and "shook." It seems Pitt's wagon dented Malocco's car and the fight began. The cases were placed on file.

ALLSTON WOMAN SEEKS DIVORCE FOR CRUELTY

For 11 months after she married, Mrs. Louise E. Garin of Allston stood her husband's beatings and drunkenness, she told Judge Chamberlin in Middlesex probate court today and then she left him. She asked a divorce, she testified he had not supported her, was almost continually drunk and kicked her on several occasions.

The court took the case under advisement. Her sister, Edna M. Tuttle, testified she saw the husband, James F. Garin, being cruel today and then she left him. She

BOY DROWNS IN ELEPHANT POND

Wading from a raft in Elephant Pond, off Allendale road, Jamaica Plain, ten-year-old Francis Beardon, of No. 211 South street, Jamaica Plain, was caught in a current and drowned today. His young companions were helpless. They ran for aid to a nearby estate and workmen recovered the lad's body. A police ambulance was called and rushed him to the Faulkner hospital, but he was pronounced dead on arrival.

With his brother John, eight, James Healey and William Green, the boy had gone to the pond today to fish. All were sitting on the raft when he waded into the water. In an instant he seemed to be caught in a current and went under.

HARVARD STUDENTS TO TAKE WARSHIP CRUISE

Nineteen students of the freshman class at Harvard University, who have taken the first year's course in naval science and tactics, will embark at the navy yard on the superdreadnought Florida for a two-week training cruise tomorrow. The cruise will be to New Haven, to permit the members of the Yale unit, to disembark after their five-day trip to Savannah and Boston, and to Annapolis, where the Harvard members will spend the Fourth of July and visit the U. S. Naval Academy.

Commander L. S. Stewart, U. S. Navy, assistant professor of naval science and tactics at Harvard University, will accompany the Harvard unit.

COOLIDGE WILL NOT LET SON WED NOW

The romance of John Coolidge, son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, and Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the Governor of Connecticut, had its inception more than two years ago, on a railroad train.

Young John Coolidge was going to Washington to attend the inauguration of his father. During the same Pullman car was Governor Trumbull and the members of his family. Of course, young Coolidge was presented to Miss Trumbull, and while no one has openly said so, the subsequent developments indicate it was a case of love at first sight.

At any rate, young Coolidge was attending Amherst and Miss Trumbull was attending Middlebury College, only a short distance away, and it is known that the two returned to school they met at frequent intervals.

Then came the Spring examinations. Young John Coolidge found himself with several days on his hands between these "exams" and the next the public knew of it, he was the house guest of Governor and Mrs. Trumbull at their home at Plainville, Ct.

There was some talk of the romance at that time, but Mrs. Trumbull explained it as "just a friendly little visit, because John and Florence are friends."

Then came the Summer vacation. John Coolidge was a more or less frequent visitor at the Trumbull home over week-ends.

There were all kinds of rumors about as to plans for an engagement, but while there has been never officially spoken at the White House, the Trumbulls issued a statement.

The following statement Miss Trumbull was a guest at the White House.

At that time John and Miss Trumbull have frequently seen each other. The girl is about a year older than young Coolidge, but the difference in age is apparently offering no barrier to the course of the true love that apparently is drawing the two young lives together.

BAR 'SPARROW' FROM POLE AS CASE PENDS

"Sparrow" Holt, who was hauled down from his lofty perch on the Metropolitan Theatre building by the police acting at the behest of the Boston Automobile Club, appeared in Municipal Court before Judge Michael J. Murray today and at the request of his attorney had the case continued until next Wednesday.

Attorney John W. McCormack explained to the court that the complaint on which Holt was arrested after his forced descent had been changed by the police and he desired time to study the new complaint.

The court agreed to the postponement and the attorney then asked the court to release Holt on his own recognizance.

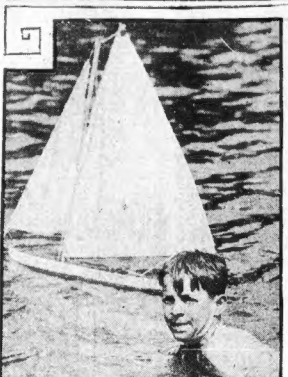

"Yes, I'll do that if he won't go up that firepole in the meantime," announced the court.

"I won't," chirped up Holt, who was sitting beside his counsel.

The complaint finally lodged against the woman who is out to break the world's record for sitting on top of a firepole is, according to attorneys, a fearfully and wonderfully drawn document.

The complaint sets forth that Holt on top of the firepole on the Metropolitan Theatre building for Please Turn to Page 7, Column 2.

STARS AMONG THOSE HIT BY 'ECONOMIES'

Hollywood, Cal., June 24 (AP).—Sixteen motion picture companies, including all major producers, have agreed today to commit to a negotiated drastic economy program involving immediate 10 to 15 per cent. reductions in salaries. The slashes affect 25,000 persons, including presidents, vice presidents, contract featured players and other employees down to $50 a week workers.

The companies are First National, Universal, De Mille, Harold Lloyd Corporation, United Artists, Fox, Metropolitan Pictures, F. B. O., Warner Brothers, Hal Roach, Mack Bennett, Jack White Comedies, Christie Comedies and Samuel Goldwyn Inc.

Will affect 260,000.

If all branches of the movie industry become affected, which observers pointed out, the necessary result, the force operating the vast network of movie cameras owned exhibitors, would bring the total of those feeling the income curbs to a possible 200,000.

The movie industry, as the outcome of many recent huge mergers of theatre chains, now controls approximately three-fourths of the country's film output.

The weekly payroll of the Hollywood was said to be its local industry's mainstay.

$100,000 BLAZE LIGHTS UP SKY FOR MILES

Sweeping through the North Packing & Provision Company plant in Medford street, East Somerville, fire caused $100,000 damage and attracted thousands of spectators who had seen the flames miles away. The fire started on the top floor of the building and firemen fought a two-hour battle handicapped by short hose lines and the flames' rapid progress.

Extra alarms were sent in by citizens two miles away, who saw the flames and thought them close at hand. Cambridge and Somerville apparatus responded. Railroad men were hurried to the scene to move a long line of freight cars to safety. The flames ate their way from the top to the bottom floor before being checked.

The roof fell in just as a crew of housemen attempted to enter the lower floor. They escaped injury by a narrow margin.

Cause of the fire is unknown. No body was in the building and when the first apparatus arrived the fire had a big start. Three alarms were sent in in Somerville from different boxes by excited citizens. In Cambridge a pedestrian two miles from the scene pulled an alarm thinking the alarm was in the next block.

Hundreds of dressed people were stored in the first floor. It was not learned how much damage had been done to the meat. The building from the roof to the first floor was gutted and water damage also was heavy.

Scores of autos carrying spectators from miles around arrived shortly after the first apparatus and police worked for two hours straightening out the traffic tangle.

TEETH CLEW TO WOMAN IN SEA MYSTERY

The mystery surrounding the identity of the woman whose limbless body was taken from the sea at Nahant by coast guardsmen, remained unsolved, today, although more than a score of persons have endeavored to identify the remains.

The woman's clothing and teeth, Lynn police believe, will ultimately lead to her positive identification, although today the body was buried in a Lynn cemetery.

Relatives of Mrs. Mary Markesha, Providence woman who disappeared from an ocean liner while off Nantucket several months ago, agreed that the body is not that of the missing Rhode Island woman.

The Lynn police have retained possession of the teeth taken from the dead woman's mouth. On the upper jaw were two porcelain teeth, affixed to the adjoining teeth by bridges.

The last tooth on the lower jaw was gold capped.

The victim of the mysterious tragedy was attired in a blue silk under vest with flange neck, a white slip, blue dress and Oxford gray Winter coat. The coat had double rows of buttons down the front, while each sleeve had a strap and buckle near the wrist.

Several months ago a woman leaped from an East Boston ferry and was drowned. The body was never recovered and police were unable to learn the identity of the victim.

A bottle of peppermint found in the pocket of the Nahant victim's coat leads the authorities to believe the woman suffered from some digestive complaint.

POLICE TREATED AND ARREST CHIROPRACTOR

Roscoe Babcock of Park square and Harry L. Bunge of Huntington avenue, chiropractors, were arraigned in municipal court today charged with illegally practicing their profession.

Babcock was fined $100 and paid.

PINT BOTTLE IN A SAD AND HAPPY TALE

A sad tale with a happy ending—an infant's haplessness vs. rehabilitation—today was enacted at Commonwealth Pier with the sailing of the Czechoslovak President's Wilson for Mediterranean ports.

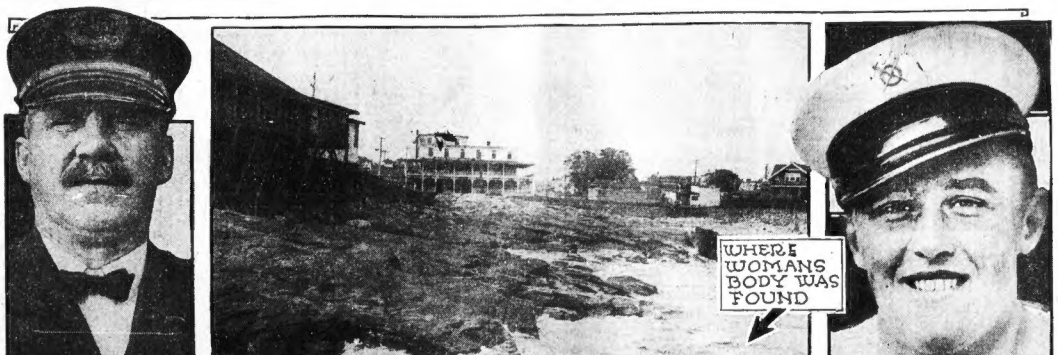

Mrs. Christina Presnina of East Boston and her infant daughter, Bertoni, faced a trying trip to Italy when the chubby babe dropped her nursing bottle—the only one taken for the trip—to the cold, hard concrete on the pier.

The worried mother, still holding the babe and the estranged couple sought her friends. A youth entered, parked auto and was seen to tilt his head backward. He emerged with a pint bottle still retaining a tinge of red, the color of wine.

The couple was married and greeted and finally freed. The happy mother boarded her boat to her state room and milk supply. The young man, however, and his friends remained in ignorance of the fact—consequently that had taken place within their portals.

If you see no this man, you should see a note of his name in the Boston Globe. He is in the Boston Globe. He is in the Boston Globe.

Nine years of wifehood ended today for the former Barbara Steele of Brookline, when the Seine Tribunal in Paris granted her a divorce from Walter Burroughs Strong.

Mrs. Strong sued her husband some time ago in Paris, on grounds of incompatibility, after endeavoring since March, 1916, she said, to get along with him.

"I am very happy that my decree has become final," said Mrs. Strong today at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Steele, No. 1015 Beacon street, Brookline.

"I have not been notified of the decree," continued the young divorcee, "but of course I have signed it on the spot and always get it quick."

Mrs. Strong said she returned to Boston only recently, after an absence of eight years. Her husband, she explained, was not a Boston man.

55,000 MOVIE WORKERS FACE CUT IN PAY

try branches total $4,000,000. The minimum of $200,000 a week of this in the banks instead of pouring it into movie people's pockets. The cut, figured on an average between the maximum and minimum is 10 to 15 per cent. Studios, might raise the weekly salary to $350,000.

UNSOFT CONDITIONS

"Economically sound conditions," the announcement said, "that prevail in the motion picture industry today, resulting in prohibitively high cost of production which in a measure is directly attributable to the artificially high salaries paid in all branches," was the reason stated as being behind the action of practically the entire movie industry.

Contract featured players will be requested in consent to the reduction to which executives and many other employees have already bowed.

CUT MUST BE MADE

In regard to the proposed slash, Richard A. Howland, general manager of First National Pictures Corporation, said:

"Other economies are also necessary for the stabilization of the industry, but some companies are worse off than others and will be forced to make more drastic measures. Just what our salary cuts will be I cannot say, as they haven't been decided upon, but we do not contemplate anything extreme."

Jesse L. Lasky, vice-president of the Paramount-Pamona Players-Lasky Corporation, declared that the entire industry has "been making pictures at ridiculous prices for high-priced and unreasonable stars and directors whose names were a mirage rather than a quality."

"No longer will we be dazzled by the very names we have created. We can now tell them to deliver our way or get out."

The New York Evening Post says that it has learned that Adolph Zukor, president of the Paramount Corporation, has himself accepted a 25 per cent. salary cut. Such cuts are said to bring the salaries of Mr. Zukor and Mr. Lasky down to $150,000 a year each.

High-Paid Movie Stars Facing Cut in Salary

Clara Bow and Pola Negri, $6,000.

JUDGE THAYER HITS CRITICS OF COURTS

Fitchburg, June 24 (A. P.)—In a talk to jurors, who presented him with several gifts at the end of the June term of Superior Criminal Court Judge John Webster Thayer, who presided at the Sacco-Vanzetti trial, made a plea for greater interest by the average citizen in court procedure.

"More citizens," he said, "rarely come into our courts. They are willing to criticize courts and jurors, but have never even crossed the threshold into the courts in all their lives."

"I should like to interest all the people of the Commonwealth in the courts so that they might see how our laws are administered. No one would welcome the citizens of the Commonwealth to the courts more heartily than I, that they might know what is being done, how the laws are being administered and what is going on."

"We have laws not only for the protection of the individual, but also for the protection of society. Without laws no one would know whether he or his property were secure."

SHUBERT THEATRE IS GIVEN $105,000 LAND DAMAGES

Mayor Nichols approved the damages award of $105,000 to the Shubert Theatre for the loss of its property taken by the city in the widening of Tremont street.

The theatre owners had been offered $45,000 at the start, but refused such a powerful protest that an additional $27,000 was granted by the Mayor upon receipt of an opinion from Corporation Counsel Frank S. Deland.

Philip MacGlass... Treasurer of the Chelmsford Society

Asked by Mrs. Agatha Lyons (whose salon is thronged by the great and famous) if it really takes six years to brew a bottle of Chelmsford, Mr. MacGlass replied—
"Six years!—Why dear lady, it takes the trees from which our ginger root is gathered twice that time to mature!"

People often ask leading questions from members of the Chelmsford Society. For instance: "Why do you always ask for 'Chelmsford' instead of 'ginger ale'?"
Easiest of all because it's a fine drink and I know that I'm getting simon pure stuff, real fruit juice, careful bottling, and guaranteed satisfaction. "Ginger Ale," dear friend, can cover a multitude of sins but 'Chelmsford' means the real thing."

"How about the price of Chelmsford?"
Most reasonable. The big four glass bottle of Pale Dry for instance, sells for 25 cents. Where can you find another A1 Pale Dry for anything like that price?"

P. T. BARNUM'S WIDOW DIES IN PARIS

Ridgeport, Ct., June 24—The death of the Baroness D'Orrenbaum, widow of P. T. Barnum, was reported in a cable received here.

The Countess D'Orrenbaum, who was the widow of the famous showman, was Nancy Fish, daughter of John Fish, an English mill owner, who based his rise in the textile industry to following Barnum's rule for success as set forth in his autobiography.

Fish and his daughter came to the United States to visit the famous showman in 1873, while the first Mrs. Barnum was still alive.

When Barnum died he left an estate appraised at $4,100,000. He had provided that his widow receive an annuity of $40,000 as long as she lived.

Subsequently Mrs. Barnum married the French nobleman and took up her residence abroad, but each year the executors of the estate for years to her a check for $40,000 less the income tax imposed by Uncle Sam.

Lindy Will Visit Canada for Dominion's Jubilee

Washington, June 24 (N.Y.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today accepted an invitation to fly to Ottawa on July 2 to participate in the Diamond Jubilee celebration of the Canadian Dominion.

Lindbergh's acceptance was announced by Secretary of State Kellogg, who had a conference with the flyer and Hume Wrong, Canadian chargé d'affaires. Lindbergh will remain in Ottawa for two days.

9 ARE GIVEN LONG TERMS FOR ATTACKS ON GIRLS

In one of the most extraordinary days in the history of a Massachusetts Criminal court, nine men received drastic State Prison sentences in Suffolk Superior Court following their conviction for shocking crimes against female children. One of the convicted men was sent to the State Prison for life by Judge Fitch, while the eight others received sentences which totaled 74 years as a maximum.

Most of the crimes were committed in East Boston, and all were separate cases, which have been hunched in the criminal docket, bringing all nine defendants before the bar at approximately the same time for sentence.

GAME WARDEN GETS 10-YEAR TERM FOR SLOTTING

The slayings resulted when the warden, and W. L. Hirsch, a Federal warden, also charged with slaying with Mercer, have not yet been tried.

COSGRAVE HAS ASSURANCE OF DAIL BACKING

Dublin, June 24 (A.P.)—The forty-five Flannery, or Republican, members of the Dail Eireann, under the leadership of Eamon de Valera, issued a statement today reiterating that "under no circumstances whatever will they take the oath of allegiance to a foreign king."

Dublin, June 24 (A.P.)—The Irish Free State apparently has weathered another crisis and President Cosgrave today sets forth on a new term of office with fair assurance that the policies of his government will be supported, even though he lacks a majority in the Dail.

Prior to his reelection, President Cosgrave gave warning that he would not accept office unless he was assured of sufficient support to carry out the policies his government had already inaugurated.

The vote of the Dail on the reelection of President Cosgrave is interpreted as indicative of sufficient strength to insure governmental control over all legislation of a major character.

President Cosgrave announced his cabinet as practically the same as the old with the exception of a few shifts in portfolios. Kevin O'Higgins becomes minister of external affairs and Justice. Desmond Fitzgerald becomes minister of defence. Richard Mulcahy is named minister of local government, Patrick Hogan is minister of agriculture and Joseph Walsh is postmaster general.

Eamon de Valera and his Flannery followers, who were barred from the Dail when they declined to take the oath, are still holding themselves aloof from the government, making promises because they were refused their places in the Dail.

President Cosgrave's Flannery supporters, who were barred from the Dail when they declined to take the oath, are still holding themselves aloof from the government, making promises because they were refused their places in the Dail.

MAR BUILDING TAKES SLUMP IN 33 CITIES

A slump of 7 per cent. in the valuation of building permits in the thirty-one cities of the State during May, as compared with the month of April, is noted by the department of labor and industries.

The May figures were $13,377,433. In April it was $14,441,286, a difference of $1,063,853.

The largest individual May permits were: Boston, $1,100,000; New Haven, $1,000,000; and two others, $1,000,000 each. The next largest were: Springfield, $750,000; Hartford, $700,000; and three others, $600,000 each.

A total of 835 new residential buildings were authorized in May, a decrease of 17,000 from April.

For the first five months of the year the total new housing permits authorized was 3,362, amounting to 6,665 families; the estimated value of which is $25,746,232.

Ban on Lotteries Sends Prices Down on Lowell Midway

Lowell, June 24 (A.P.)—The edict of Attorney-General Arthur K. Headlee against lotteries and other games of chance played a prominent part today in the annual auction sale of Fourth of July midway lots on the South Common.

With more than 150 available lots, only sixty were sold to the bidders after a letter from the Attorney-General to the Mayor had been sent by the prospective referee.

Lots that a year ago brought premiums as high as $30 above the standard price of $25, today brought only premiums of $15.

Rochester, Mich., June 24.—Mrs. Edward Arnold is under arrest on a charge of murder in connection with the death of her daughter, Irene, on May 31.

MINE MUTINY IN DEADLOCK

Lansing, Mich., June 24 (A.P.)—Demands for better conditions at the State Penitentiary here today superceded the convict ultimatum—no cigarettes, no coal—that precipitated a mutiny Tuesday in which 233 prisoners barricaded themselves and 110 guards in the institution coal mine.

The new ultimatum, telephoned from the 72nd level of the mine to the State Prison board assembled here to investigate the fourth mutiny in three decades, resulted in a deadlock.

Although the authorities had been in the mine more than 66 hours, they remained defiant when advised to surrender if they wished their demands considered.

The ultimatum specified: Speedy consideration of parole applications, second and third term convictions to receive the same consideration as first term; removal of the warden from parole hearings and elimination of his recommendations; full credit for time in other institutions when transferred; additional reduction of sentences for good behavior; more privileges for inmates better qualified for parole; no striking and no punishment for strikers and a writ for time in other institutions when transferred; additional reduction of sentences for good behavior; more privileges for inmates better qualified for parole; no striking and no punishment for strikers and a writ for time in other institutions when transferred.

upon the waters, will return. That money will save a million lives, and the million lives will be worth at least nine dollars a year each, as consumers of gasoline and oil.

And then the Rockefeller will have more money to give away.

THE NATIONAL leaders are "worried about money" with a worry that will seem strange in Europe. That government takes in $25,000,000 more than it needs in a year, and can't make up its mind what to do with the money.

SOME SAY, "Give it back to taxpayers in reduced taxation." Others say, "Do that and you will be short of money next year, should your revenue not be so high."

In any case, it is a very pleasant dilemma.

MUSSOLINI yesterday received Dr. Butler, anti-prohibitionist head of Columbia University in New York. If Dr. Butler discussed prohibition he must have puzzled Mussolini. The latter would think it foolish to drink too water, and absolutely insane to drink bootleg whiskey. And he would be unable to understand millions of human adults allowing prohibition to be forced upon them against their will.

In Italy nobody is a prohibitionist and practically nobody gets drunk. And so it has been for two thousand years.

THE BEARS enjoyed themselves in Wall Street yesterday, and some timid bulls ran, like a child seeing its shadow. Don't gamble, but don't be frightened into selling any good investment.

MR. DANIEL GUGGENHEIM, wis man, leaving for Europe says:

"The United States has thirteen thousand millions owing from foreign nations. A country in that situation cannot fail to have prosperity for a long time to come."

Besides the thirteen billions that Europe owes this government, American citizens and corporations are Europe's creditors to the extent of eleven or twelve billions more. A cash income of a thousand million dollars a year from Europe, enough to build the Panama Canal, four times, should keep the wolf from our national door.

SIOUX INDIANS in South Dakota can't decide on a name for President Coolidge. They thought of "Still Waters," then they suggested the President's physician should consult with the Sioux "medicine man" about a name. One suggestion was "Man-Not-Afraid-of-the-Future."

"Still Waters" wouldn't be an inappropriate name.

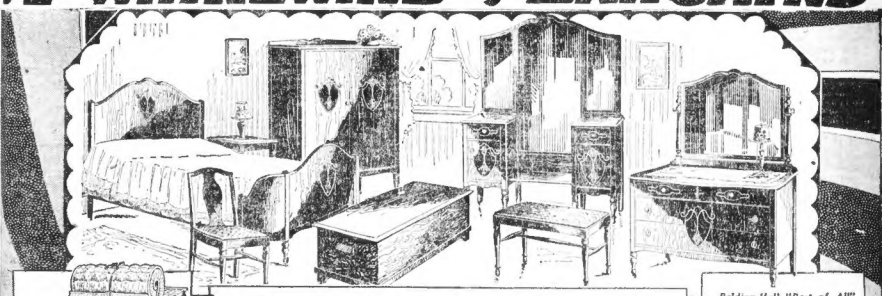

THE MAGNIFICENT NEW French liner Ile de France will be equipped with deck catapults from which airplanes will be sent to carry passengers from the Grand Banks to Canada and United States seaboard cities, cutting two days off the transatlantic voyage.

That's a good beginning. The day is not far away when big flying machines, going around the world, will drop passengers at various points in little flying machines.

IN FRANCE a few soldiers in the reserves, 250 out of 20,000, objected to being called up for training and marched around their barracks singing the communist "Internationale" hymn. Painters, war minister, says there is nothing serious in these Communist demonstrations, and he is right.

COMMUNISM means dividing up property. Six million Frenchmen own the land in France. Their fathers and grandfathers have worked hard on it and they have no intention of giving it up with anybody. That they proved at Verdun and other places.

NICHOLS LAUDS FIRE HEROES

Frank Nichols and Eugene W. Carroll, members of the Boston fire department, who were recently injured at the Shearer fire in Bay State road, Wednesday, when four persons lost their lives, were commended for their bravery by Mayor Nichols, today.

The mayor visited the firemen at the City Hospital, where they are confined and thanked them on behalf of the city for their courage displayed in the face of grave danger.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

EVERYONE APPEARS TO BE taking the transatlantic trail! Liners steam away carrying happy companies, and never a prow turns toward the Old World that has not aboard a representative company of Bostonians. Witness the Paris list for tomorrow morning's sailing—the giant liner might be a Boston "special" so important is the local contingent sailing on its annual Summertime holidays. Whole families are going.

ONE SUCH IS THE PHILIP S. DALTON group of Milton. Mr. and Mrs. Dalton and their son, Philip Dalton, Jr., with Miss Alice and Miss Marion and Miss Susan Dalton. Elton W. Dalton and Miss Florence Dalton also sail—making altogether a most interesting set of travelers to voyage together to foreign shores. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sturges Gray, who make an annual Summer pilgrimage to Europe, are on the Paris for the present sailing.

MRS. GUY MURCHIE, AFTER New London and the Harvard-Yale boat race (with Guy Murchie "the Harvard varsity shell"), she is to New York to continue a journey European via the Paris. Courtland Sherburne Gross, Harvard, 1927, and Alexander Johnston Cassatt, Harvard, 1928, are shipmates on the Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Burr of Chestnut Hill are passengers, and likewise the John R. Swann, Mrs. Swann, with her daughters, Miss Helen and Miss Marguerite.

THE JUNIOR GEORGE L. BATCHELDER (she was Miss Katherine Abbott) are sailing on the Paris on an interesting errand. They go to London, where Mr. Abbott is to be one of the ushers in a wedding party at a marriage of great moment—that of Miss Matilde Houghton, of July

OBSERVING HARVARD 1902 ANNIVERSARY

Mr. Wendell, chairman of the celebrations of Harvard's 25-year class, and Mr. Greer, newly appointed envoy to Turkey, were, with Mrs. and Miss Wendell, guests of the Charles S. Sargent, Jr., at Holm Lea.

A. The popular young daughter of the Ambassador to the Court of St. James will carry a host of well wishes from American and English friends—like when she walks up the aisle to become Mrs. Chandler Parsons Anderson, Jr.

PAUL BARRON WATSON calls to join Mrs. Watson in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Godyke (Frances Prescott) are going over for the Summer at least. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson Brown sail on one of the journeymen that take them to the Old World with much frequency. Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Talbot are with them. Miss Henrietta Wood walks. Really, the Boston list is unending. An interesting out-of-town set with Boston affiliations on the Paris are Mr. and Mrs. James Longhlin, 24, and Mrs. and Mrs. William B. Shaw.

MADAME WHO WILL FILL the offices of her favorite charity needs must ever cast about for a new method whereby to create a popular interest therein. And what so universally popular as golf, with professional and amateurs to stage matches? Such is the method announced by Mrs. Frederick Converse and Mrs. Arthur V. Lyman to gather in an enormous gallery at Bras Burn Club. On Monday their benefit takes place, and safe to say there will be a gallery running into hundreds at those fine and easily reached links.

TWO GOLF SESSIONS ARE arranged, one for the morning and another for the afternoon. Fred J. Wright, Jr., and Jesse Guilford are the star amateurs due for a round, and for professionals Mesdames Converse and Lyman have corralled Joe Turpin and Johnny Farrell. The many Smart Setters who desire to benefit the Free Hospital for Women will join down Monday and the Bras Burn links for their attention and attendance, and all those hundreds of ardent golf fans loving the game and the thrill will be on hand. Tickets at Wright & Dutton's, or from Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Converse or Miss Ruth Thayer at Lancaster.

SACCO FRIENDS ASK BRANTING TO STAY IN U. S.

George Branting, Swedish representative of Swedish labor, who was sent to Boston to study the Sacco-Vanzetti case, not only for sympathizers in Sweden, but also those in France and England, and, as well, was called today from Stockholm asking that he remain indefinitely in this country in touch with the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

Branting, however, left the city yesterday for New York to board a steamer for his home in Stockholm. The steamer puts into Boston tomorrow, en route to Europe, but members of the Sacco defense committee declared today it is doubtful if Branting will change his plans.

The envoy's wife is ill and he is anxious to be at her side. He said before leaving that he had made an exhaustive survey of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and had been given every possible assistance by Governor Fuller and everyone connected with the case, save Judge Thayer, who did not give him an audience.

Before coming to this country, Branting conferred with Sacco-Vanzetti representatives in Paris and London and he will report to those groups on his return home.

Governor Fuller today resumed his examination of witnesses and a-ha connected with the Sacco-Vanzetti case. During the day he talked with half a dozen persons who played part in the trial and conviction of the two radicals who are now awaiting electrocution and which sentence will be carried out the week of July 10 unless the Governor intervenes.

Among those questioned by the Governor in his office today were Mrs. Charlotte Tait of Quincy, a nurse, who was on the scene of the murder in South Braintree a few minutes after it occurred and who was a defense witness at the trial of Sacco and Vanzetti. Each of the two radicals who are now awaiting electrocution and which sentence will be carried out the week of July 10 unless the Governor intervenes.

BRITAIN AGREES TO PARLEY ON SUBMARINES

Genoa, Switzerland, June 24 (A.P.)—Great Britain and other powers with the United States, in London, today agreed to discuss the submarine problem. It is the first time since the signing of the 1906 London treaty that the subject has been taken up by the powers.

The agreement was reached after a long and arduous session of the conference. The British delegation, led by Lord Curzon, was particularly insistent on the subject. The American delegation, led by Mr. Hughes, was equally firm in its position.

The conference is expected to continue for several more days. It is hoped that a final agreement will be reached by the end of the month.

The agreement is a significant step towards the resolution of the submarine problem. It shows that the powers are willing to discuss the issue and reach a compromise.

The conference is a landmark event in the history of international relations. It marks the first time that the submarine problem has been taken up by the powers.

MAGMILLAN TO USE BASE BOYS DESIGNED

When Commander Donald MacMillan leads the Field Museum Arctic expedition north this month he will take with him a unique building. This structure, to be used during the winter months for the expedition, was designed by the Boys' Vocational School of Somerville, each piece designated for erection in the Far North by members of the expedition.

An auxiliary building of 1,071 square feet to house the electrical power plant, workshop and quarters for the Eskimos also was designed by the boys of the school. The main building for the scientist use contains 3,450 square feet of space with circle walls and double doors. It consists of nine bedrooms, a large living room, kitchen and store room. Moving pictures will here be shown to the fortunate natives.

The special plans were laid out by the students. MacMillan's personal selection on the Somerville Vocational School grounds by the Carver Club under the direction of Instructor John F. O'Neil, and the drafting was done under the direction of Instructor Frank W. Turner, Jr. of the drafting department.

Charles C. Gann, Gerald Cusack, Shelia J. Jones and James Geary, pupils in the Boys' Vocational School helped in the plans for the living quarters of the expedition. Commander MacMillan has highly commended the Somerville School for its interest in the work, especially in having the preliminary plans ready in two days for inspection.

Holland's Son Seeks to Save First Sub From Junk Pile

Newark, N. J., June 24 (A.P.)—Declaring that honorable burial at sea was preferable to an ignominious end in the junkman's pile, Joseph P. Holland, son of John P. Holland, inventor of the submarine, today opened negotiations with a scrap iron dealer in New York to buy back the "Fenian Ram," his father's first submarine.

The craft was sold by the Class Point Military Academy recently for $100, because it was considered too bulky for transfer from the fleet to the school's new site at Ogdensburg, Long Island.

The boat had been exhibited by the academy since 1916.

NEW CLEW TO TO NUNGESSER AND COLI

Quebec, June 24 (A.P.)—The Foreign Service today started on a new inquiry into a possible clue to the fate of the late Nungesser and Coli, the French trans-Atlantic fliers.

C. Piche, chief of the Foreign Service, received a telegram from a man named Terribilly, living at Berlinia stating he had met an Indian who had given him "some interesting particulars about Nungesser and Coli" and would send a letter concerning all he had learned.

Foreign officials are making inquiries into the matter.

Although all clues up to the present have failed to yield any actual indications of the fate of the two fliers, after a conference between Premier Tardieu and Minister of Foreign Affairs, the government has decided to continue its searching.

Character in Legs

Every Part of the Body Has Its Own Meaning and CHARACTER

MARION DAVIES IN "TILLIE THE TOILER"

This is the day of woman's freedom, also the day of free legs, free arms and fresh air. That's quite a change from harem days of covered faces, swaddling clothes below the feet, different from days in China when women's feet were squeezed so that they could not walk without help. And different also from the day when the Queen of Spain was much insulted because French tradesmen presented to her, humbly, magnificent silk stockings, embroidered with the royal arms of Spain. They were told that, so far as THEY could know, "THE QUEEN OF SPAIN HAS NO LEGS."

"BLUE MAZURKA LEGS BY CANDLE-LIGHT"

Ladies are more sensible and less particular now as these two pictures show, and the new freedom is developing their character.

Gradually we may get back to old Greek days when the beauty of the human body, made in the likeness of its Creator, was looked upon as a glory and not as a disgrace.

The first picture in this column shows Miss Marion Davies as the first appears on the film in her new picture, "Tillie the Toiler." You are no more than this, see her rapidly walking along the sidewalk, the caption tells you "Tillie wears two pairs of garters, one to hold up her stockings, the other to hold up traffic."

The second picture is called by the lady that posed for it "Blue Mazurka Legs by Candle-light."

Those "Mazurka" legs belong to Billie Hill, an English girl, and they actually look English. The candlelight is a good artistic idea. But the businesslike walk of "Tillie" going to work is a still better idea.

These two pictures show that ankles and legs, displayed reasonably and modestly, reveal character, purpose, strength of mind.

The palm reader, telling her fortune by the lines of a young lady's hand, may enlarge his horizon and learn to explain the meaning of knees, ankles, insteps, etc.

The body is made up of endless millions of cells, every one of which eats, drinks, breathes, has its own separate existence and character. Every group of cells in every part of the body contributes to what we call "a human being" and possesses its own character.

Slow

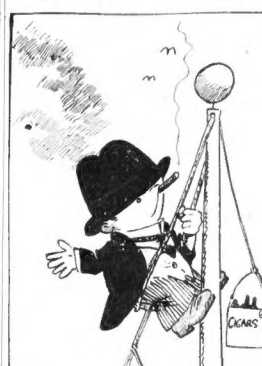

Progress in Britain Is Not in a Hurry

Britain has prided itself on a flexible Constitution, under which the will of the people had no long wait to become the law of the land.

But now the Tories want to make sure that an electoral upset would not jeopardize their cherished House of Lords. They are willing to reduce its hereditary element—which no longer means much, since peers are made to order. But they demand a hold which cannot be shaken short of two elections.

They are probably accurate in believing that no two successive elections in so cautious a country will swing to the left.

CIVILIZATION NOW MEANS RAPIDITY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE greatest businesses in the world today are those which have to do with more rapid communication, either of men, of goods or ideas.

Of the greatest corporations in America, United States Steel takes the lead. It furnishes material for constructing roadways and wheels.

Then there are the great railroad companies like the Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Union Pacific.

Along with these come the American Telegraph & Telephone Company and the General Motors Corporation, also the Ford Company.

They all have to do with moving people and ideas and goods faster.

Civilization has come to mean rapidity of transportation, and the great wealth of today and of the future is to be made by companies which increase the speed of traffic.

Almost all of these companies are American. The word which characterizes America is speed. We may not be getting anywhere compared with the rest of the world, but we are going faster.

Backward countries are noted for their lack of wheels.

It has been said that China will not advance until it gets off the ground. At present, their cabs are man drawn and their roads are miserable. When their people get to riding in automobiles and more on trains than they do, China will go forward in civilization.

Whether civilization is a good thing or not may be open to dispute, but we are rapidly on our way, and the more we speed up the more we are in the line of progress.

The best symbol of civilization is the wheel. Most inventions of recent years have consisted of those which make wheels go faster.

Intercommunication of one country with another produces many beneficial effects. It not only expands the commercial life of each country, but it tempers unbridled nationalism. It tends to reduce jingoism.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

JIM says "he'll do anything for peace."

For fifteen years Jim has been married. His wife was one of those pretty, pink baby dolls who go in strong for "Dear Technic." Jim thought the tears were cute at first. They made him feel like a big strong hero. But after he had lived with her for the fifteen years he began to get a cramp in his wrist and a shuddering doubt in his mind as to whether it was worth it. Was it possible that the Dear Little Woman he had just trying to put something over on him?

It was.

So for fifteen years Jim has been enduring the "Dear Technic." The output has varied from a mere damp dribble to a top star Mississippi flood with all the softness and trickling of rain and hysterics. And always Jim has stood it and hoped for nothing for peace.

Margaret is another one who craves peace at any price. Margaret is the spinster daughter of two cankersome old humans whose one joy in life for the last thirty years has been picking on Daughter. They pestered her through childhood and nagged her through adolescence. They nipped her lovers and tore her ambitions to bits. Constantly from noon to night, they meddled and fuss, criticism and command generally making what was left of poor Margaret's life. And she started to do it. Jim, too, will do.

THINKING FOR PEACE.

Then there's the third of the sorry trio. Billie Hill has been Jim's matrimonial record by nine years. For twenty-four years Billie has been the Worst Bullied Wife in Green Falls. The doorman leads an honored and cozy existence in comparison with poor Mistress Jones. If Billie treated a horse as he treated his wife the Humane Society would be after him with all due speed. But Billie—Well, Billie—

LOOKS ANYTHING FOR PEACE.

Jim, Margaret and Billie are all very sorry for themselves. They believe, and the neighbors will agree with their opinion that they are worthy people, stuck up, justly put upon.

Those characters were the most precious things they possessed. It was their first and supreme duty to guard those characters and keep them strong and clean and free. No one was could perform that duty for them. And unless that duty was performed, their lives would be wrecked and the big things they might have done for the world would go wrong.

Well—these three are wrecked, and the big things are undone. And Jim and Margaret and Billie all blame Somebody Else. They have only themselves to blame. They did ANYTHING FOR PEACE — PEACE WITHOUT HONOR.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAEL

THE Summer days have brought again their ancient lure to earth, the south wind's lyrical refrain, the daisy's refrain and tinkling notes of streams. The Summer days have stirred again the ancient, wistful dream. He sees the daisy's fair and fragrant promise, flame, life throbs and beats and the warm sun's rays so secure, supreme. He finds in that tinkling mood which greets him, eager, eyes gliding, and he is restored in Gulls of Paradise.
